

Michael Mclsaac – Retiring June 30, 2017

Michael Mclsaac is retiring from the Kenora Catholic District School Board on June 30, 2017, after 33 dedicated years in education at the Kenora Catholic District School Board. He started with the board as a music teacher in September 1984 at St. Thomas Aquinas High School.

Michael has taught religion to all grades and levels at the school. He has a strong knowledge of social justice issues and uses this in all his classes.

Among his favourite courses to teach is the Grade 11 World Religions Course. Michael has put his heart and soul into this course and many students would likely remember it as one of their favourites in high school. He has taken information beyond the textbook and brought it to life for his students. He has made valuable connections with the various communities in Winnipeg and has done his field trip twice a year for many years to showcase each of the different faiths. This course truly allows students to understand different faiths and their practices.

Michael has always been a valuable part of our music ministry and is so incredibly talented when it comes to anything musical.

We wish him a long and prosperous retirement and many years of happiness!
